

Please put the rule into effect so that wireless telephone customers can keep their telephone numbers when they change wireless service providers. Regular phone companies do this and wireless companies should also do it. It is a major inconvenience to the customer to have to change phone numbers when changing wireless service providers. Wireless companies that oppose this rule are trying to hold customers hostage with telephone numbers, rather than improving service and lowering prices to keep customers.